Stewardship Reflection: 27th Sunday in Ordinary Time: Stewardship Requires Self-Control

"For God did not give us a spirit of cowardice but rather of power and love and self-control." 2nd Timothy 1:7

Many of us compartmentalize our Faith, we bring it our only when we attend Mass or when we attend a parish event.

Stewardship requires discipline and striving to put God first in everything, all the time. The next time you are at a neighborhood party, at work or out shopping, would your actions signal to others that you are a good and faithful servant of our Lord?

Reflections about professing, praying, thinking, and living the Faith of the Church

The Lord's Day

The Sanctification of Time . . .

In our time, time itself has become problematic. “There is never enough time,” we complain—unless we are in the midst of some misery, then time crawls. The problem of time is entangled with the problem of death. The frantic race against time has much to do with this race against death. In his Meditations on Liturgy, Thomas Merton described the anxiety of the “modern pagan,” the “child of technology” who “lives not only below the level of grace but below the level of nature—below his own humanity. . . . In such a world, a man's life is no longer even a seasonal cycle. It is a linear flight into nothingness, a flight from reality and from God” (Meditations on Liturgy, p. 31).

The gospel of Jesus Christ banishes this demonic fear of time. By his resurrection from the dead, Christ has declared his lordship over time, banishing the demons that would make time our enemy. By faith in Christ, time is no longer the thief that steals away our happiness; it is the herald announcing the approach of a destination. In the rhythms of her liturgical calendar, by her sacramental time keeping, the Church announces Christ's “taming” of time. Christian worship breathes with this sense of the transformation of time.

Sabbath Rest . . . Lord's Day . . .

“Remember the Sabbath Day, and keep it holy” (Ex. 20:8; Deut. 5:12). This third commandment of the Decalogue establishes the principle of biblical time keeping. The commandment recalls that on the seventh “day” of creation, the Creator declared the creation good, and “rested” from his creating labors. Just so, God's creatures may join in God's Sabbath rest, knowing that we do not have to work 24/7. God is Creator and we are not. We are commanded to rest as an act of faith in our Creator.

After Christ rested from the labor of our redemption, after his Sabbath rest in the grave, he was raised to Life Eternal, establishing the first day of all days. The seventh day was not forgotten; it was fulfilled. Its meaning has been taken up into the new Day of the Sun— “when the disciples gathered together on the first day of the week to break bread” (Acts 20:7). From the first, Christians were urged “not to neglect the meeting together, as is the habit of some, but to encourage one another” (Heb.10:25).

“The Church that waits for her Lord and anticipates the revelation of his lordship over all the kingdoms of this world, will never abandon the sign of Sunday. . . . This day proclaims loudly to all the world, even the modern heathen world, that man through his own care and work can never build the kingdom of eternal glory” (Alfred De Querrain). This is why the law of the Church makes clear that Sunday “is to be observed as the foremost holy day of obligation in the universal Church” (C.I.C. 1246)

Holy Leisure . . .

As an ancient Christian sermon urges: “Come to Church early, approach the Lord, and confess your sins, repent in prayer. . . . Be present at the sacred and divine Liturgy, conclude in prayer and do not leave before the dismissal. . . . This day is given to you for prayer and rest. This is the day the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it” (C.C.C. 2178).

STM Youth

The first Sunday of October is Respect Life Sunday. We are called to respect all life, from the time life is conceived in the womb to the time God calls us home and we are no longer on Earth. In the world we live today, many people do not respect Life. We live in hard times, 22% of all pregnancies end in abortion, over 100 suicides per day, over 90 people murdered per day. In addition to lives being taken, people are disrespectful of others for many reasons fueled by hatred. We can not allow hatred to rule over us. We must turn to God and to love. Please pray for healing and help from our Lord. For our Pope, bishops, priests and all government leaders that their actions and decisions may reflect respect for the life and dignity of all human persons. Envelop those who feel disrespected or unwanted or undervalued with your love and remind them they are your children and therefore are priceless. For all of us, that we allow our words, actions and behaviors to respect the life and dignity of all human persons.

PLEASE let Katie know if you attend the following!

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Twenty-eighth Sunday in Ordinary Time, October 9, 2016 Luke 17: 11-19

As Jesus continued his journey to Jerusalem, he traveled through Samaria and Galilee. As he was entering a village, ten lepers met him. They stood at a distance and raised their voices saying, "Jesus, Master! Have pity on us!" And when Jesus saw them, he said, "Go and show yourselves to the priests." As they were going they were cleansed. And one of them, realizing he was healed, returned, glorifying God in a loud voice; and he fell at the feet of Jesus and thanked him. He was a Samaritan. Jesus said in reply, "Ten were cleansed, were they not? Where are the other nine? Has none but this foreigner returned to give thanks to God?" Then Jesus said to him, "Stand up your faith has saved you."

Commentary:

The ten lepers exemplify aspects of our relationship with God: acknowledgment of need ("Have pity on us"); obedience ("go...as they were going") and reception of divine mercy ("they were cleansed"). The Samaritan leper demonstrates another aspect of this relationship: only when he returns to give glorify God and thank Jesus, does Jesus reveal that he has, in fact, been saved. For us, as for the Samaritan leper, salvation is revealed and experienced in worship and thanksgiving.

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Commentary resonates with me?

Fight or flight? So many have given up and run away. Run into the fight to end abortion and euthanasia! The future of America depends on it!
