Stewardship Reflection: Stewards Bear Good Fruit

"Therefore, every tree that does not bear good fruit will be cut down and thrown into the fire" Matthew 3:10b

Do you bear good fruit for Christ? Or do you spend your time, talent and treasure constantly acquiring more toys, clutter and junk? Our time, our talent and our treasure are gifts that God has given us. What we do with them is our Stewardship, our gift back to God. What gifts are you planning to give to the Lord this Christmas?

Fr. Phillip Johnson

Reflections about professing, praying, thinking, and living the Faith of the Church

The Second Coming

Advent may be the most counter-cultural of the liturgical seasons. While the world around us somewhat frantically launches the “Christmas season” earlier and earlier, the Church observes a kind of pre-Christmas lent, a time of prayerful waiting and spiritual preparation. And the first announcement of Advent is not the coming of the Christ Child; it is Christ's final advent. “He will come to judge the living and the dead”. As if to say this is how we get ready to welcome the Christ Child – by preparing to meet him when he comes again as our judge. We prepare for Christmas by preparing for the end of the world! As the child longs for and “just can't wait” for the coming of Christmas, so child-like faith longs for the final advent of Jesus.

But can I really learn such longing? Can I learn to honestly pray with the first generation of Christians, “Maranatha! Come, Lord Jesus!”? Why would we long for the end of the world as we know it? Because the “end of the world,” according to the promise of Christ, will bring the fulfillment of our true End, our true destiny, our ever new beginning. It will bring the vindication of love, the redeeming of every “small” act of love that in this old world dies unrecorded, buried in obscurity. Truth will finally shine and falsehood be exposed; unfairness will be righted. Those who have kept faith through suffering, obscurity, and ridicule will be honored. Those who have sown the seeds of violence, hatred, and godlessness will face the truth or be banished. The humble will be surprised by their exaltation, the loveless shocked by the embrace of Love. Whatever is good in us will be perfected, whatever is evil in us purged away. We will know the joy of at last being all we are meant to be. Our children and all God's little ones will then be loved as they ought to be loved. In this End – and this will surely be the highlight of heaven and the summary all joy – the Crucified One will finally get all the credit, finally be adored as he deserves. And God will be everything to every one” ( 1 Cor. 15:28).

A fearful hope, a hopeful fear . . .

But “He will come to judge. . .”. Is this promise of the End not a terrifying threat? We hear in Scripture, “It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God” (Heb. 10:31). In the Christian life, for the time being, hope and fear dwell together, and one does not banish the other. Because judgment means not only vindication but also “passing judgment”. Judgment means sorting out, separation, one on this side, the other on the other side, acceptance or rejection, a final either-or (Matt. 25:31-46).

This holy fear is no cringing fear. It is entirely in the service of God's grace. It gives us courage to repent. It teaches us to accept now God's right to judge, to willingly stand, ahead of time, in the search light of God's judgment (the confessional!). For we all have in us that which must be separated out and “discarded” for the sake of our true End (1 John 1:10). After all, no one will enter heaven half-heartedly.

Nevertheless, as we acknowledge our sins and cast ourselves on God's mercy, fear bows before hope. And finally, “love casts out fear” – not our imperfect love of God, but God's perfect love for us in Jesus Christ (1 John 4:10, 18). God's judgment, humbly accepted, drives us under the shelter of Christ's Cross. This is our hope: it is the Crucified One comes to judge the living and the dead. The is the Gospel Promise that floods our fear with Gospel Hope: our final End is in the care of Sacrificial Love.

SECOND SUNDAY OF ADVENT, DECEMBER 4, 2016

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Third Sunday of Advent, December 11, 2016 Matthew 11: 2-11

When John the Baptist heard in prison of the works of the Christ, he sent his disciples to Jesus with this question: "Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?" Jesus said to them in reply: "Go and tell John what you hear and see: the blind regain their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, and the poor have the good news proclaimed to them. And blessed is the one who takes no offense at me."

Commentary:

From the dark of prison and on the brink of death, John asks an urgent question: Are You the one...or should we look for another?" Jesus honors the question by providing an answer. Moreover, His answer is specific and concrete: the blind see, the lame walk, etc. John's question must become our own: Is Jesus the One for us, or are we really looking for another?

Reflection:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Commentary resonates with me?

Lord, You formed my innermost being; You knit me in my mother's womb. I praise You, so wonderfully You made me; wonderful are your works! Abortion destroys God's creation.

Choose life today.
