Stewardship Reflection: 4th Sunday of Lent

“For God so loved the world that he gave His only Son.” John 3:16

Of all the wonderful gifts that God has given us, the gift of His own Son is truly the greatest. How can we ever thank God for a gift like that? God does not ask us to sacrifice our own precious firstborn, but he does ask that we are grateful with our God-given gifts, that we nurture them and return with increase.

The Catholic Faith In Slow Motion (no.111)

Fr. Phillip M. Johnson

Professing, Praying, Thinking, and Living the Catholic Faith
From One Sinner to Another: How To Confess Your Sins

If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves and the truth is not in us. But if we confess our sins, God is faithful and just, and will forgive our sins” (1 John 1:8). “For the sake of Christ, be reconciled to God” (2 Corinthians 5:20).

Some Catholics never go to the Sacrament of Confession. Never. Some were not well taught about the importance of confession and its empowering grace. Maybe they don't know that a Catholic is bound by one of the five precepts of the Church to confess serious sins at least once a year (see the last week article). Then, there are some Catholics who truly desire the comfort of confession and often think about going. But they have neglected it so long that they are afraid they no longer know “how to do it”. Some are so burdened by the load of guilt that they feel they cannot bear the shame. If there is even a chance that any of these Catholics among us will be encouraged by a few brief instructions and assurances, it's certainly worthwhile to offer them.

First, it is important to know that confessing one's sins in personal prayer before God is a daily form of penance for all Christians, including Catholics. The liturgy of the mass begins with a penitential rite. The Catechism teaches us that prayer, giving alms, acts of love toward those in need, fasting, spending time reading Holy Scripture—all these may be offered as acts of penance. But in addition to these “regular” forms of penance, there is the sacramental form—the confession of sins to God in the presence of a priest, who absolves sins by the command and in the name of Christ himself.

“Reconciliation” speaks of reconnecting, restoring broken relationships. The word “sin” means an action or persistent attitude that alienates us from others and from God, from self, and from the Church. We all know of course that relationships can be injured by “what we have done and what we have failed to”. Every sin is, in some sense, a failure of love. But there are some kinds of sin (the Church calls them “grave” sins) that, by their very nature, damage our communion with Christ and with his Church. The seriousness of these sins requires a sacramental confession and forgiveness. Deliberately missing mass on Sundays and other holy days of obligation is a grave sin. Examples of other grave sins are: sacrilegious words and actions, sexual relations outside the covenant of marriage, and any action that denies the sacredness of human life. Until such sins are confessed and forgiven, one must humbly abstain from receiving Holy Communion, although one must still be present at mass on Sundays or other holy days of obligation.

There are five aspects or parts to sacramental confession. (1) Examination of conscience. This takes place beforehand, preparing you to honestly acknowledge your sins. (2) Confessing (naming) your sins with complete honesty before the priest. (3) Penance. The priest will assign a simple penance for you to do. Usually it is to be done immediately after you leave the confessional. (4) Contrition (holy sorrow). You will be asked to speak an act of contrition, expressing your sorrow, accepting your penance, and resolving to fight against all temptations. (5) Absolution. The priest will then speak the words of God's forgiveness, recalling the mercy of God won for us by the sacrificial love of Christ. You walk away forgiven.

The Catechism teaches us that, from the human side of this encounter, true contrition is at the very heart of the matter. You can see why. An insincere apology is a truly ugly thing. One popular form of the act of contrition is as follows. It expresses well the deeply personal nature of the sacrament. “O my God, I am sorry for my sins with all my heart. In choosing to do wrong and failing to do good, I have sinned against you, whom I should love above all things. I promise, with the help of your grace, to do penance, to sin no more, and to avoid all that leads me to sin. My savior Jesus Christ suffered and died for me. O my God, have mercy on me.”

Round of Classes coming up: March 13, 20, 27

March 13 – INTERGENERATIONAL ACTIVITY – MINISTRY PRESENTATION

Parents and extended families may attend the presentations which will be held in the Chapel.

Works of Mercy and Ministries go hand in hand and all are invited to serve.

During our Lenten Journey we often hear about JESUS' loneliness and how He and His message were hardly understood by anyone. But the lonelier he felt the more he sought God in prayer. Loneliness is very much a part of our human condition. The difference is that as humans we run from loneliness and fill that space with all sorts of things to distract ourselves. Often the choices we make in times of loneliness are wrong and may take us away from God and the Catholic way. Yet, loneliness and prayer go together, hand in hand. In prayer we receive the inner sight and the wisdom for the next step... It is really important to help our children of any age, to accept loneliness as part of life and not to run from it or fill the space with things. We know where these could take them. Instruct them instead to turn to JESUS in time of loneliness and to prayer, seeking inner light and wisdom.

FOURTH SUNDAY OF LENT MARCH 11, 2018

Small Christian Community Faith Sharing

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Fifth Sunday of Lent, March 18, 2018 - John 12:20-30

Jesus answered them, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. Amen, amen, I say to you, unless a grain of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains just a grain of wheat; but if it dies, it produces much fruit. Whoever loves his life loses it and whoever hates his life in this world will preserve it for eternal life. Whoever serves me must follow me, and where I am, there also will my servant be. The Father will honor whoever serves me."

Commentary:

In today's Gospel Jesus speaks of real resurrection. And he tells his followers that the only way to come to this life of glory is by dying. The image of the grain of wheat offers a powerful example of this reality. A single seed is limited and alone. But if the seed dies to its present state, it will grow into a stalk filled with seeds. The message for us is that the present is good, but because Christ has brought an end to death through his own death and resurrection, we can look forward to a future that will be far more than our limited lives here and now.

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Reflection resonates with me?

Pro-Life Corner: "This [abortion] is a debate about our understanding of human dignity, what it means to be a member of the human family, even though tiny, powerless and unwanted."-
