“Be doers of the word and not hearers only...” James 1:22

It's easy to understand the definition of Stewardship - living a grateful generous life. The hard part is doing it! How do your words and actions reflect God's word? Do you share your time in prayer with God daily? Do you use your talent to help those in need without expecting anything in return. Are you generous with your financial resources? If not, what are you waiting for?

From the Pastor's Desk

Understanding the Beauty and Importance of the Mass

Dear Parishioners,

In general, Mass attendance has been far from stellar in most parishes for quite some time now. In our area, calculations seem to indicate that less than twenty percent of registered parishioners attend Mass on the average weekend. Some of the sad comments that I remember over the years include: I can pray at home, I don't get anything out of the Mass, Mass is boring, I'm / we're just too busy, or I no longer practice any organized religion. As pastor, I can simply bewail and lament the situation or I can offer some suggestions to help people appreciate the wonderful gift that we have in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. Here are some of my thoughts:

- 1. Mass is a ritual and an act of worship. Its general pattern does not change. There is a Liturgy of the Word and a Liturgy of the Eucharist each and every time. Knowing this, it is important I understand that Mass is not meant to be entertainment—like watching a show or performance—but worship. In fact, it is our part of renewing the Sacred Covenant that Jesus established by His Passion and Death. Today's liturgy involves the active participation of the congregation: voicing the responses, singing, listening attentively, praying, making various gestures and movements, etc. Just being present (punching my time card) is not the same as active participation. An act of the will is involved in which I choose (actively) to worship the Living God.
- 2. Not every Mass will appear earth-shattering or every homily be super interesting. Ritual, by its nature, can become somewhat routine. While some things do change in the Mass like the color of vestments, the hymns, the readings, the prayers, etc., the general pattern does not. For a greater awareness and appreciation of the beauty of the Mass, the participant needs to delve more deeply into its rich mystery with all of its symbolism and subtleties. Read a book, take a class, watch a video, or listen to a podcast explaining just what is happening during each and every Mass. This should help enhance one's appreciation of what occurs at Mass. Moreover, homilists vary in oratory skills, intelligence, and preparedness. While not every homily will necessarily motivate or impress an individual, one or another might provide particularly good insight and inspiration. Some homilies might actually be life-changing. However, when a person is not present to hear them (does not come to Mass), the possibility of being edified or inspired by them might not even exist.
- 3. Reception of the Holy Eucharist and Mass attendance need to be clearly distinguished. Catholics are required to attend Mass each week and on Holy Days of Obligation. This responsibility has not changed in our time, although it is noticeably disregarded. It doesn't matter what the subjective state of the person is—sinner or saint. For example, a person unable to receive Holy Communion (for whatever reason) is nonetheless still required to attend Mass. Reception of Holy Communion is not a requirement for attending Mass. One needs to be in the state of grace (not conscious of any grave sin) in order to worthily receive Holy Communion. Otherwise, the person first needs to seek out the Sacrament of Penance and Reconciliation (confession). However, anyone unable to receive Holy Communion can and should make a Spiritual Communion instead while realizing that Christ is also present at Mass through the Sacred Scriptures, in the person of the priest and where two or three are gathered in Jesus' name (the Church or Mystical Body of Christ). The essential point here is that all Catholics need to attend Mass weekly.
- 4. Preparation for Mass and reflection on the Scripture readings can help enhance the experience. Reading the Scriptures for Mass ahead of time is a valuable way to benefit more fully from them. What is God saying to me? As a priest preparing my Sunday homily, I often begin right after the weekend Masses to reflect on the Sacred Scriptures for the following week. Taking the time to pray ahead of time (instead of rushing in late or at the very last minute) also can put one into the right frame of mind. Moreover, the motivational Catholic speaker Matthew Kelly suggests keeping a Mass journal with personal reflections from the Sunday readings. This practice can help one to become a better listener and more reflective. The Mass readings can be found online and in various monthly publications which often include prayers and reflections on the Scriptures.

- 5. Volunteer your services. Becoming a reader, altar server, usher or choir member are various ways for a person to get more actively involved at Mass. From my youngest days as an altar server, I preferred serving at the altar to sitting in the pew. If you have been properly trained, be prepared to offer your assistance whenever you come to Mass.

I have personally found that when I give God time in prayer and worship as I am supposed to do, I inevitably find the necessary time that I need to accomplish the many other duties I have. However, when I begin to cut corners or make my prayer and worship a lesser priority, my days often become more chaotic and burdensome. There is an important connection here for all of us and attending weekly Mass should be the first priority of every Catholic.

Pope Francis' Prayer Intentions For SEPTEMBER For The Cry Of The Earth

Let us pray that each of us listens with our hearts to the cry of the Earth and of the victims of environmental disasters and the climate crisis, making a personal commitment to care for the world we inhabit.

Sexual abuse is a crime that must be reported, investigated, and responded to so that victims are protected and those who commit abuse are removed from ministry. A special toll-free number has been established to help callers report cases of sexual abuse by priests, deacons, religious employees and/or volunteers. In accord with state law, cases of child sexual abuse are reported to the New Jersey Division of Child Protection and Permanency.

Eucharistic Revival quotes from Pope Francis

"How many mothers, how many fathers, together with the slices of bread they provide each day on the tables of their homes, have broken their hearts to let their children grow and grow well! How many Christians, as responsible citizens, have broken their own lives to defend the dignity of all, especially the poorest, the marginalized, and those discriminated? Where do they find the strength to do this? It is the Eucharist: in the power of the Risen Lord's love, who today too breaks bread for us and repeats: "Do this in remembrance of me."

Please note that we put the following week's Gospel passage in this space so you can prepare all week for Proclamation of the Gospel the following Sunday. Faith Sharing helps ordinary people connect their faith with everyday life experiences.

Excerpt from the Gospel for the Twenty-Third Sunday in Ordinary Time, Sept. 8, 2024 - Mark 7:31-37

People brought Jesus a deaf man who had a speech impediment and begged him to lay his hand on him. Jesus took him off by himself. He put his finger into the man's ears and, spitting, touched his tongue; then he looked up to heaven and groaned, and said to him, "Ephphatha!" that is, "Be opened!" - And immediately the man's ears were opened, his speech impediment was removed, and he spoke plainly.

Commentary:

The cure of the deaf-mute in today's Gospel points to a deeper reality. We are told that Jesus returned "into the district of the ten cities." This was Gentile country. The deaf-mute symbolizes the Gentiles who had to have their ears opened to God's word before they could proclaim it. For Mark's community, which was mostly Gentile, the man's cure dramatized their hearing the Good News. God draws near to all, Jews and Gentiles alike.

Questions for Reflection and Sharing:

1. What is God saying to me in this Gospel passage?
2. What word or phrase in this Gospel speaks to me?
3. What word or phrase in the Reflection resonates with me?

Pro-Life Corner: "Abortion and racism are both symptoms of a fundamental human error. The error is thinking that when someone stands in the way of our wants, we can justify getting that person out of our lives." -
